- This document specifies which Apex Learning courses have required or optional course materials and details the specific materials by course. Required materials include textbooks, novels, science lab manuals, and ancillary materials such as a microphone and lab materials. Optional materials include textbooks, novels, and ancillary materials such as calculators and speakers.
- This document also specifies which course materials are available for purchase from Apex Learning and the price for those materials as of the date of this document. Prices are subject to change based on Apex Learning's cost to procure and ship the materials. Prices include ground-shipping fees but not tax.
- Apex Learning offers two versions of each of the following courses: AP Biology, AP Chemistry and AP Physics B. The courses with the "- Virtual" suffix (e.g. AP Biology – Virtual) provide access to virtual lab activities and are available for use only in a distance learning situation. The courses without the suffix do not include virtual lab activities but do incorporate wet lab activities that have required lab materials.
